A woman desperate to find a place where she can finally belong...

A rancher longing for a woman that he can truly be at one with ...

A prejudiced woman, with a vindictive streak, who is determined to make life a living hell...

When orphan, Kathleen Norris, arrives in Chafee, Kansas, she sets off in search of a job only to be met with a series of rejections. Even the local general store, this close to Christmas, doesn't need her help. Therefore, the last thing she expects is to be offered employment by wealthy rancher, Julian Harker, when she meets him, opportunistically, in town.

After all, he hardly knows her as she has just stepped off the stagecoach.

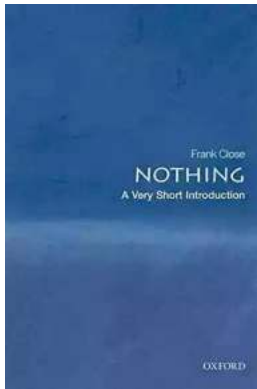

With very little other work to be found, Kathleen accepts the job of housemaid, positively looking forward to starting her new life.

That is, until she meets the rather fierce ranch house cook, Gertrude. Gertrude is determined to make her life as miserable as possible, especially when Julian's family arrive for the festive season.

Can Kathleen overcome Gertrude's prejudice and earn the trust of her handsome employer?

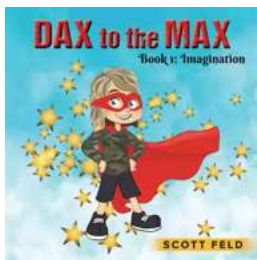

Will Kathleen find the happiness she has dreamed of for so long?
