Close Encounters: Real Stories from Fearless Individuals

The Terrifying Truck Driver

Anna, a long-haul truck driver, recalls a harrowing experience on a dark and desolate highway. As she was driving through the night, a shadowy figure suddenly appeared in the rear-view mirror of her truck, getting closer with each passing second. Frozen in fear, Anna experienced a surge of adrenaline as the figure disappeared just seconds before it collided with her truck.

The Ghostly Hitchhiker

John, a seasoned traveler, picked up a hitchhiker on a lonely stretch of highway. As they engaged in a brief conversation, John noticed that the hitchhiker appeared transparent. Alarmed, John asked the hitchhiker about his ethereal presence. The hitchhiker simply smiled before fading away into thin air, leaving John in a state of shock and disbelief.

A doctor chases, then assaults an elderly woman after she cuts in front of his BMW; a teenager shoots another driver because the driver "looked at him with disrespect"; one man kills another because "he was driving too slow." These are a few of the many examples of extreme road rage documented by Paul Eberle in this shocking look at the havoc caused by angry people in their cars. Eberle makes it clear that young and old, men and women, and all socioeconomic classes are involved in this epidemic of rage and violence on our highways. In 1998, the California Highway Patrol recorded 209 incidents of Assault with a Deadly Weapon in which a motor vehicle was the weapon used, and in the same year the media reported more than 4,000 stories on road rage nationwide. Since then, the problem has only gotten worse. Eberle lists the warning signs of potential road-rage drivers, suggests ways to avoid such dangerous individuals, discusses the psychology of the car as "holy icon" and the effects of traffic congestion on "mad car disease," expresses skepticism about psychologists specializing in aggressive driving, and proposes ways to reinvent our cities to make them less stressful, dangerous places. Complete with graphic pictures showing the dire consequences of driving while enraged, Terror on the Highway should be mandatory reading in all driver education classes.
